QUESTIONNAIRE--INTENT-TO-USE APPLICATIONS

United States trademark and service mark applications for registration may be filed based on a good faith intent to use the mark in commerce. Alternatively, applications may also be filed based on actual use in commerce.

Completion of this questionnaire form provides a record of pertinent information for establishing bona-fide intent to use a prospective mark.

The statute provides that an intent-to-use applicant must state that it has a bona-fide intention, under facts or circumstances showing good faith, to use a mark in commerce. Use in commerce is defined as good faith use of the mark in the ordinary sense of trade and not merely an intent to reserve a right in the mark.

An intent-to-use applicant must have more than a mere fondness for a mark. The lack of facts supporting an intent to use may indicate a lack of good faith in filing an intent-to-use application. The information set forth below will be used to provide support for your good faith intent to use the mark and will be maintained in your file in case the issue of good faith is questioned in the future.
